DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 34, 35, 37 and 38 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In regard to claim 34, the independent claim 1 preamble recites as a method of installing and recycling carpet tiles. However, dependent claim 34 preamble is not a method claim, thus claim 34 is indefinite. And claims 35, 38 having the similar issues.

3. Regarding claim 37, the phrase "or the like" renders the claim(s) indefinite because the claim(s) include(s) elements not actually disclosed (those encompassed by "or the like"), thereby rendering the scope of the claim(s) unascertainable. See MPEP § 2173.05(d).

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Art Unit: 3635

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1-45 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-32 of copending Application No. 09/920,152. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the scope between two applications appears to be similar. Specifically, the claims 1-45 (09/934,373) are corresponding to the claims 1-13 (09/920,152) except for the installing step in the first area are made up of tiles of at least two, four, nine, twelve, sixteen, twenty five, thirty six of different patterns, colors, designs, shades or combinations thereof. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have more than one different patterns, color, designs, shades in an installed area, since it has been held that rearranging of duplicated parts of an invention involves only routine skill in the art. The motivation for doing so would have been to provide more cosmetically appearance for the installed floor.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 3635

7. Claims 36, 37, and 38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown (US 6,524,107).

In regard to method claims 36-38, Brown teaches a floor covering arrangement comprising at least two surface covering display panels being mutually different in at least one appearance or composition characteristic, such as at least one appearance or composition characteristic including at least one of color, pattern, material, texture, and geometrical composition (see abstract).

Brown does not teach expressly a method of installing carpet tiles in at least a first area with adjacent tiles being of different pattern, color, shade, design, or combination.

Examiner considers this to be the obvious method of setting up device of claims because in installing carpet tiles, one must obviously determined an area to be installed, what color, pattern, etc. to enhance appearance. Brown would be motivated to follow theses basic steps to do the installation for the floor.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-45 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
